Mr. Cotton in a few words told the children that they were painting pictures of their lives. One little girl was quite emphatic in agreeing with all he said, "now is the time you are painting."

A Santa Claus and Christmas tree well laden was a joy to all. The committee tried to remember everyone and we hope no one was left out. This followed the concert and Santa led the way to the tree.

Fun All the Year Round.

"Camping for Girls," by Hortense G. Gregg, is having a good sale, still Miss Gregg has plenty to supply those who may want them for New Year's gifts. These books are especially interesting to girls and the reading may be of great benefit to girls who are a little out of health, or are tired by school studies, or by the winter's society duties, or by indoor work, or out of sorts for want of work. One middle aged lady said after reading, "Camping for Girls," I only wish she had told more."

It is not a summer camping book, but it tells of the different beauties of out-of door life all the year round, spring, summer, autumn and winter. It points out and suggests the pleasures in all seasons. a real live, active girl does not have to stay in the house three whole seasons to enjoy the country the fourth. Four-fourths of the year is filled with freedom if one chooses, instead of one-fourth.

Clara Daggett went to Bangor, Christmas.

Leon Kimball spent Christmas at South Paris.

Minnie Radcliffe is at her home helping to care for her grandmother, who is sick. Millie Bridges is working for her in the Beal's hotel while she is away.

The annual parish meeting of the Congregational church will be held at the church next Wednesday evening, Jan. 1st. Supper will be served at 6.45, followed by a business meeting and a social time. Everyone who attends this church is invited. A few ladies have undertaken to furnish the "essentials" for the supper, all others are asked to bring cake and pastry. This has come to be one of the pleasant events of the church and it is hoped that the attendance this year will be large. At four o'clock in the afternoon will occur the annual meeting of the Ladies' Circle of the church. A good attendance is desired.

Norway Municipal Court.

George B. Childs and Ralph C. Ryerson were brought into the Norway court Thursday morning by Deputy Harry D. Cole of Bryant Pond. They were arraigned on charge of intoxication at North Woodstock Christmas day. Plead guilty. Sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and costs of $11.33 each. They paid and were discharged.

Tubbs--Groves.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Owen P. Brooks on Pleasant street, Wednesday, at noon, occurred a very pretty wedding. The contracting parties were Blanche Ellen Groves, sister of Mrs. Brooks, of Yarmouth and James Newell Tubbs of Norway.

The parlor was handsomely decorated with holly, holly wreaths, potted plants, and an arch trimmed with holly, near which hung the wedding bell. The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. S. Rideout of the Congregational church. The bride wore a gown of cream colored lace over silk and carried white roses. The bridesmaid was Harriet E. Craigin, who wore a dress of light blue silk muslin and carried a bouquet of white pinks. Oscar J. Tubbs of Waterville, a brother of the groom, was best man. The single ring service was used. Mrs. Susan Craigin played the wedding march.

The guests were: Samuel Groves of Yarmouth, father of the bride; Samuel Groves, Jr., Luther Groves, Yarmouth, John Groves and daughter, Aileen, of South Boston, Mass., brothers of the bride; Mabel Soule of Freeport, and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis F. Mansfield and daughter, Mattie Francis, of Chebeague Island, Yarmouth; Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Tubbs and Mrs. Eliza Brackett, Norway; Oscar J. Tubbs and Idonia C. Tubbs, brother and sister of the groom, of Waterville.

Valuable presents were received, including silverware, cut glass, three checks, lamp and many other articles.

Mrs. Tubbs received her education at Yarmouth academy, and has been for seven years a very successful millinery trimmer, having been employed at Hudson, Mass, Bellows Falls, Vt., and for the past year with Walsh Bros., at Ansonia, Conn.

Mr. Tubbs is one of the leading young business men of Norway. He received his education at Norway high school and Shaw's business college, Portland. For some time he was treasurer and travelling salesman for the Pine State Shoe Co., and is at present proprietor of one of the largest grocery stores in Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. Tubbs left on the afternoon train for Gorham, N. H. They will take a trip through the White Mountains and to Boston.

Walker--Bennett.

Lillian Mae Bennett of Gardiner and Richard Alvarus Walker of South Paris were married by Rev. B. S. Rideout, Tuesday evening, at the parsonage. After the ceremony a few of their friends gave them a reception at the home of F. A. McDaniels on Beal street. The bride wore a traveling suit of blue. They went to Gardiner on the early train Wednesday morning to visit at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Frank Dearborn, with whom she lived after the death of her mother. She is the daughter of F. M. Bennett of Norway. The groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Walker of South Paris. He has a position in the sled factory and on their return from their wedding trip will make their home at South Paris.

The young people were not sparing of rice and other tokens of good wishes. There were numerous presents.

James A. Tuell.

James A. Tuell of Buckfield was for a number of years engaged in business in Norway. He had a meat market in the store now occupied by E. F. Bicknell, and afterwards was in the bakery business. He afterwards moved to Buckfield and engaged in the bakery business. About two weeks ago at the High street crossing at Buckfield Mr. Tuell, who was driving in his covered wagon, had his team struck by a freight train. The horse was killed and Mr. Tuell thrown thirty feet or more. He was unconscious when picked up. He was cut about the head and sustained body bruises and broken bones.

Mr. Tuell was badly cut about the head and covered with severe bruises. Being heavily clothed with a fur coat doubtless saved him from more serious injury. He is reported as comfortable as could be expected at this time.

Bradbury gave solos that were much appreciated. At all the churches special Christmas music was given in the morning with an appropriate Christmas sermon by the respective pastors.

County Attorney Barnes.

The Civic League Record of Maine in the December number publishes a picture of our County Attorney. It says:

"Charles P. Barnes of Norway is serving his second term as prosecuting attorney of Oxford county and is one of the most efficient and faithful, who has occupied that office. Cases of murder, felonies and misdemeanors have been conducted with ability by this lawyer, who in the prime of life is doing such good work for the state that citizens are asking if it may not be possible to have his valuable services for another term of two years. In the enforcement of the liquor law Mr. Barnes has been energetic and faithful, although sometimes lacking the cooperation of officers, who failed to get the evidence available, or of judges who declined to impose restrictive sentences.

"At the present time there is in Oxford county, outside of Rumford Falls and exclusive of town liquor agencies, only one U. S. liquor tax payer and that party keeps a soft beer stand. At the last term of the S. J. court at South Paris, Mr. Barnes secured five jail sentences for liquor sellers and was refused others by the presiding justice. This attorney has no "protected list" of liquor sellers or other criminals.

"Mr. Barnes' enterprise in enforcing the liquor law was shown on November 25, when he obtained injunctions from Judge Savage against two buildings at Rumford Falls, owned by Fred E. Tucker and Annie Siddall and used by them or their tenants for the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquors. The Siddalls are conspicuous on the court records of Oxford, but Tucker is a crafty character. who has violated the law for many years, but (like Wiseman of Lewiston) fell on evil times only when an able and honest county attorney camped on his trail. Tucker has been fined and jailed and now his Canal street property is closed to liquor selling.

"The injunction process was used almost exclusively by assistant attorney-general Trickett in his successful work of closing saloons in Kansas, but it has been rarely used in the enforcement of the liquor law in Maine. In 1901 the Bath Civic League closed a saloon by injunction and county attorney Crockett dealt with the Tinwick Bottling Co. of Lewiston in the same manner in 1905. The public will follow Mr. Barnes' latest move with interest.

REACH THE SPOT.

To cure an aching back,
The pains of rheumatism,
The tired-out feelings,
You must reach the spot—get at the cause.
In most cases 'tis the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys.

Charles Bierbach, stone contractor, living at 2625 Chestnut St., Erie, Pa., says: "For two years I had kidney trouble, and there was such a severe pain through my loins and limbs that I could not stoop or straighten up without great pain, had difficulty in getting about and was unable to rest at night, arising in the morning tired and worn out. The kidney secretions were irregular and deposited a heavy sediment. Doctors treated me for rheumatism, but failed to help me. I lost all confidence in medicine, but Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me so quickly and so thoroughly that I gladly made a statement to that effect for publication. This was in 1898, and during the six years which have elapsed I have never known Doan's Kidney Pills to fail."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Bierbach will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

My Garland.

Once in Life's early morning,
I plucked a garland of rare flowers,
I said, "Let fairest bloom be mine,
No thistle rude can grace my bower.

"I'll gather to myself the rose,
That emblem of undying love,
The thornless rose, that leaves no pain,
But purest joy like that above.

"The sweetest mignonette, and thyme,
The hearts-ease and forget-me-not,
My heart the shrine, I'll bask content,
And peace and pleasure be my lot."

The lily of the valley, too, I chose,
Sweet lily, white as Angel's wings;
So I live the spell while others frown,
And call them dumb and senseless things.

I joy in gifts kind Nature gives,
Seeking behind the cloud, a sun;
And when the blackest frowns the sky,
My erstwhile treasures smile, each one.

I weep and oft these sun-kissed flowers
With glistening petals seem to smile,
And smooth the path wherein I walk,
Grasping the flowers I culled ere-while.

And so when angry rolls the deep,
My garland rare speaks out to me;
None but myself may understand
The language sweet for now I see.

My chosen flowers inspire me on
Through brightest hours and chilling night,
Heaven sent; their mission to fulfil,
Fair gifts of love; they are my light.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Turned Over a City.

The strong and influential position of The Boston Journal in the New England community today was well illustrated by the results of the recent Boston city election.

Practically single-handed, The Boston Journal consistently and steadily exposed the situation at City Hall during the past year. It waged a straightforward, unrelenting and forceful campaign for good city government.

The Journal has no prejudices and is bound to no political party, but seeks only the good of the community. The result of the campaign shows clearly the influence of The Journal in Boston and illustrates the fact that it has a circulation both in quantity and quality that any paper may well be proud of.

There is also another point that illustrates the character of the circulation. The Journal desires and has obtained. The Journal, as a matter of principle, carries no medical advertising whatsoever. It has continuously turned away all revenue from such improper advertising and has kept its advertising columns, as well as its reading columns steadily on a "home" plane.

In the construction of its headlines The Journal avoids the sensational and in the selection of its news it seeks that news which is of interest to the home.

In other words, The Journal has made its success on the lines of a clean, honest public spirited newspaper. It is for that reason that it keeps gaining new readers every day.

GREENWOOD.

Price of Pies Gone Up.

We do not know what particular variety of pie is the more delicious or what lady in the neighborhood makes the best pies, but one thing is certain the pies of certain varieties or some special brand made by some special young lady brought an enormous price in these times. Witness the pie supper at the school-house on Patch Mt. for proof of my assertion. At the entertainment several pies sold for over a dollar and one sold for three dollars. Now ye who are hungry for pie curb your appetite before the pies go higher and it takes a whole week's wages to buy a lonesome little pies. But the pies were good and with O. L. Peabody as auctioneer, the bidding was fast and furious. Indeed the school realized $12.80 net. With the proceeds a new dictionary and other articles will be bought for the school. Miss Davis as teacher deserves great credit for her efforts in behalf of her school. The following program was rendered:

Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Noyes Drug Store, invites all who suffer from any form of catarrhal troubles to get a Hyomei outfit from them with their absolute guarantee that if it does not give perfect satisfaction, the money will be refunded upon request.

There is no other treatment for catarrh that in any way resembles Hyomei, none that gives such quick curative results and lasting satisfaction; no medicine that can take its place, none that can be sold on a guarantee like this, to refund the money unless it cures.

Catarrh is a germ disease and can be cured only by breathing Hyomei, so that the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs are reached by its antiseptic healing powers. In this way all catarrhal germs are killed, the irritated mucous membrane is healed and catarrh is driven from the system.

This wonderful medicated air treatment does not drug and derange the stomach, but is breathed through a little pocket inhaler that goes with every dollar outfit.

Business Training Necessary.

One of the most important offices in the state of Maine is that of the newly created state auditorship. A sound business education is a necessity to one who is to have a hand in managing the affairs of that office, and Gov. Cobb pays the Shaw Business College a high compliment when he appoints Charles P. Hatch, auditor, and Warren P. Doughty, Lee D. Hodgkins and William E. Cross as assistants. Perhaps it did not enter into the Governor's calculations that all of these gentlemen are graduates of the Shaw Business College, but he certainly must have considered their qualifications for the office before appointing them.

The merits of the graduates of the Shaw Business College are acknowledged everywhere, and it behooves those who are about to enter upon a course of study of a business nature to become associated with an institution which graduates students who are filling the high places in the business world.

As Others Think.

While everyone has a right to his own opinion, yet it is wise to always consider what others think and profit by their experience.

Nothing makes life so miserable, or interferes so widely with the usefulness of the average American, as indigestion, and it is well for us to give fair consideration to what others think about this remarkable affliction.

Frank Kimball, prop. of the Noyes Drug Store is positive that in Mi-o-na stomach tablets he has an absolute cure for indigestion and the many disagreeable symptoms that follow this disease. such as distress after eating, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness flatulence, nervousness and debility.

Their action in selling Mi-o-na on a guarantee to refund the money unless it cures, shows plainly their belief in the value of this remedy. He takes all the risk and there will be no charge whatever for Mi-o-na unless you are satisfied that it has relieved you of indigestion. 52-1

Lessons of the Passing Year.

As the old year draws to a close it is well to reflect upon its experiences, its events and its results. Many people sum up its profits and ascertain what it has brought to their pockets but take no note of what it has brought to their minds. With some it has been a year of sadness, of trials and tribulations. Others have found it the happiest year of their lives.

What a volume of lessons can be learned in one year if people would stop once in a while and ponder. We find but few who are studying and reflecting upon "the deep things of God." The great majority are more interested in the shallow things of this present world.

People talk about experiencing religion as if they got it all at once. We have to go on experiencing religion all through life. Religion does not consist wholly in the way a man uses himself but in the way he uses other people. The religion of self is altogether too frequent.

There are many absurdities connected with what some people call religion. I once heard a man say that all the religion he cared for was just enough to enable him to squeeze into heaven. If he should happen to fall short a little it would be a sad case. But that is not the kind of religion that heaven approves.

Some try to walk in the way of holiness and make failures and mistakes and they get no credit for ever trying. Some are always complaining that they never get their dues from the world. Let them stop and reflect. What does the world owe them? When they complain of the harvest do they remember what they sowed?

This is a time for deep thought and for good resolutions with charity for all.

An Old White Mountain Guide.

Benjamin F. Osgood, the famous White Mountain guide, died at the home of his son, Frank G. Osgood. He was born in Hiram, June 7, 1829, and when a young man went to the old Glen House in the White Mountains and for many years was a porter and guide there. On Dec. 7, 1858, he climbed to the top of Mt. Washington. He had a thrilling experience in reaching the top, and was ever after proud to tell of his exploits on that occasion, as this was the first winter ascent of Mt. Washington ever made by a white man.

Mr. Osgood drove six and eight-horse hitches for the old Concord coaches through the hills, and often travelled over the mountain trails on horseback when guiding some distinguished man through the devious ways of the mountain notches, for it was as a guide that Mr. Osgood is noted. General Grant, Artemus Ward, Mark Twain and other famous men, both Americans and foreigners, were taken through the mountains under his guidance. After the old Glen House burned, Mr. Osgood made his headquarters at Crawford's, where for years he kept a little shop and sold alpenstocks and other souvenirs of the mountains, many of which he made himself. During the winter he lived at Gorham and carved canes and alpenstocks. A year ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis and since then had made his home with his son. Visitors to the mountains missed his tall, sturdy figure last summer, and there were many inquiries for this old guide, who was among the last of the pioneers of the White Mountain climbers.

Mr. Kipling's Canadian Tour.

Ontario and all Eastern Canada is deeply disappointed that Mr. Kipling, upon the occasion of his recent visit to Canada, should have only seen "The West from a Car Window" and the East not at all. The older provinces are always proud and never jealous of the West, into which they are sending their shekels and their sons.

With all of his powers as a word painter, it is hardly to be expected that Mr. Kipling can do justice to all of Canada. He has not seen the thriving cities and towns of Ontario, with its splendid railways, mills and manufacturing industries. He had only a fleeting glimpse of Toronto, and saw nothing of the score or more other industrial centers of the Dominion. It is too bad, Canadians believe, that he should have spent the most of the time he was able to give to the study of conditions in the Dominion to the troubled shores of the Pacific. With no desire to minimise the seriousness of the labour disturbances out there, or to disguise the fact that Canada is in sore need of more men to carry forward the work in hand, Canadians would have been proud of some pen pictures by Mr. Kipling of the industrial East, where the people are prosperous and happy. This conviction is by no means local—it is widespread, universal. ("Canada." London, Eng., Nov. 16th, 1907)

A Dying Request.

A father out in Pennsylvania lay dying, and his son seeing the end was near, asked him if there was not some desire that he might gratify. The parent thought a few moments and then replied in the affirmative. He recalled particularly a boulder which stood near the old homestead in Maine, and which was the center of his playground. With voice shaken with emotion he asked his son to place that boulder upon his grave. He declared that he could secure no monument so satisfying as that rough pile of stone around which such pleasant memories associated.

The son found the boulder just where his father said that it lay and it was shipped to the West. Carved upon its flinty side is the inscription.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

Waterford Dairy Testing Association.

The second meeting of the Waterford Dairy Testing Association was held at Grange Hall on Friday evening, Dec. 20, according to appointment. About thirty gentlemen and one lady were present, and Mr. S. C. Thompson, representing the dairy authorities of the state was also in attendance and after President McIntire called to order, and record of first meeting was read, Mr. Thompson proceeded to address the members of the association upon certain points most worthy of consideration in commencing operations for testing the value of the individual cows of the dairy herds belonging to members.

He said: "He wished a large number of ladies were present, as it was to the credit of the sex that a women in far away Denmark first conceived the idea of an organization for the scientific testing of dairy cows, as the equal partners of their husbands in promoting such improved methods as were contemplated by this association, they should certainly participate in the social meetings of the members and have free access to all sources of information respecting the objects of the organization. The conditions of dairying in our state need improvement. The average products of our cows in butter making substance is too small. The only way the desired objects of the association can be accomplished is by weeding out the poor cows and replacing them with the best that can be obtained.

The speaker mentioned the well authenticated record of a herd of 75 cows which had produced 245 lbs. of butter per cow; in six years by new methods of selection and treatment of herds, 71 cows produced 401 lbs. of butter. Denmark has 2,000,000 cows. Maine with 200,000 cows could produce butter to the amount of $6,000,000.

Speaking of the importance of the new methods for ascertaining the value of dairy cows for butter making, Mr. Thompson stated that it was commanding the earnest attention of dairymen in many sections and that the western states will soon be well organized for improvement and much better results from dairying. It seems quite a task to ascertain the exact quantity of cream produced by each cow, but if we are going to keep cows for the business of butter-making, why not know exactly what profit is yielded by each cow. It is for the purpose of earning more money and that is what we are working for.

Let us cooperate: get a man to help find out the number of pounds of butter produced by each cow per week, per month and per year. Men who are doing the best are the ones who realize the need of it. In 12 years the average increase of butter per cow in Denmark was 109 lbs. or an increase from 39,000,000 to 146,000,000 lbs.

President McIntire followed Mr. Thompson in appreciative remarks. Mr. Thompson and others who are authorized by the State, desire to help us, and I believe we are unwise if we don't accept the valuable aid they offer us. Let us take advantage of this opportunity to place our association on a high plane of working capacity in the beginning, which will ensure our success, and make us a worthy example for emulation by similar organizations to be hereafter formed in our State. The president's brief address was followed by a general subscription or pledging of herds by the members for the perfecting of the scheme of dairy-testing, as follows:

This is the Oxford County report in the December Bulletin of the department of Agriculture:—A perceptible increase in pork production is reported from several localities. It is not the general practice to keep the pigs on green feeds in the early part of the season. Per cent. of the farmers who are using barn cellars for storing dressing, 59. Hogs are kept on the dressing in these cellars to quite a large extent. A very small per cent. of the apple trees were sprayed this season. In some sections there was a large increase in per cent. of trees killed last winter. The Baldwin, Ben Davis and Greening are the varieties which suffered most. Opinions as to the cause of this increased loss in trees: Freezing and thawing in the winter, excessive cold on the lower levels, continued low temperature with the ground not frozen.

When Skunks Are Harmless.

Several nature students are arguing about the helplessness of skunks when held by the tail and this fact is corroborated by eminent writers from experiments tried. Once the skunk gets his footing it is another story. Nature fakirs often misuse the skunk, speaking of him as though his terrible odor were always present, it being one of his external fixtures. In truth there is no neater or cleaner animal than a skunk or one with less odor. Those who have very often dug out skunks in the winter time say that their den, even when occupied all winter by five or six skunks, is odorless, dry and clean.

Co., is something of a jumper as a person is usually known that is afflicted with that form of nervousness which impels or compels them to perform all manner of strange things when startled by a sudden noise or unexpected incident.

As a result when Forest Emery, boss of the camp, came to camp a few days ago and discharged his rifle within a few rods of Ross he immediately launched forth a terrific blow with his right. John Ring happened to be right in range of the blow which landed on his nose with such violence that without the friendly assistance of the camp wall he would undoubtedly have been dropped where he stood. The blood flowed freely from the injured member and Allan Cole coming to the door and seeing it nearly fainted thinking John was shot. Confusion reigned for a few moments but explanations followed and the mystery was cleared up.

A Woman Registered Guide.

Western papers are publishing a picture of one of our Maine girls, Agnes Holmes Fuller of Oxford, in hunting costume standing over a slain buck. This is what it says:—There are only three women licensed as hunting guides in Maine. One is Agnes Holmes Fuller of Oxford, who does not devote all her time to sport. She is a teacher and more often takes out parties of pupils than bands of hunters. Miss Fuller was born in Oxford and educated there and at He bron. Ill-health caused her to leave school and shortly after she took up teaching. Her brother is a guide and under his tutelage she became expert in the ways of the woods. She registered with the state authorities five years ago. Miss Fuller is a devotee of athletics and is a writer on sporting subjects.

Champion Bear Hunter Dead.

Silas Locke of Mechanic Falls, formerly of Roxbury, died at the hospital at Lewiston, Thursday night, Dec. 12, where he had been about two weeks for surgical treatment.

"Uncle Silas," as he was familiarly known, enjoyed the distinction of being the champion bear hunter in Maine. He has caught and skinned fifty-one bears, beside assisting in many other bear hunts where he played an important part.

The first bear which Mr. Locke killed was in 1877 in Roxbury, Oxford county, and it was one of the biggest he ever captured, weighing 450 pounds. The last bear he killed in 1898, and he was not so big as some others. All but one of the bears he trapped, using steel traps and never failing to get the bear. All of them have been black bears, and most of them had a faint marking in the way of a few white spots on the breast.

Mr. Locke had lived in Mechanic Falls about eight years and was a machinist by trade.

He leaves a wife and one daughter, Mrs. Gammon, who lives in Stratford, N. H. He also has brothers in Salem, Mass.

Templeton's Town Topics.

One man says that he tried to go up the lake road last summer with a bicycle and had to borrow a pair of snowshoes to get through the dust, and lug his wheel in the bargain.

As there seems to be a growing interest in the proposition made by the board of trade some time ago looking to the improvement of our roads and streets, I wish to present a few opinions of municipal officers from almost every section of our state, that have come to my notice. There is no gainsaying that the condition of our roads and streets where the heavy traffic passes is wretched.

I am not picking flaws with the present or past authorities who have built them. On the other hand they deserve great praise in being able to keep the town out of litigation with what apparatus the voters of this town furnish them to do with. All that they can be expected to do is to keep the road passable. During the past ten years the amount of traffic has changed to a great extent. More teams and vastly heavier loads are hauled over our roads than in the past. No road built in the manner that has sufficed for so many years could be expected to withstand the requirements put upon it of late years.

The only way to build substantial and durable roads is the new way—crushed stone rolled down with a steam roller. The first cost is a little more but the repairs are a considerable less. In the longer run the expense is no more if as much as by the old methods but the benefits are much larger.

Here is what the public officers of different Maine towns say regarding the use of a steam road roller in building streets and roads.

Joseph Torrey, ex-Mayor of Bath, says:—"We have done a great deal more work and a great deal better work on our streets than we ever did before in one year, at a greatly reduced cost. The introduction of the roller was opposed by some of our citizens, but I am glad to say that even the most conservative now admit that the purchase was a good one."

Bath is a town with many miles of gravel roads the same as our town of Norway. What is good for them ought to be good for us.

W. H. Foster, chairman of the street committee, Calais, states another fact which goes to show the people of Norway that we have been groping in the dark in the building of our roads. This is his statement:—"After two years' experience with a steam road roller we are pleased to say that we have never regretted the purchase. Before we purchased the machine a horse roller was used in building our streets. We find the steam roller is not only much more economical but that our roads are much better built and sustain the traffic without cutting up and ravelling, as they did when we used a horse roller." (And we don't even use a "horse roller.")

The municipal officers of the town of Houlton, a town in Maine and about the size of Norway, find the use of a steam roller greatly to the advantage of their town. Here is their statement:—"We purchased a steam roller in 1906. We have tested this roller in all possible places at all kinds of work and it has worked to our entire satisfaction. We have built more firm and substantial road this season than has been built in this town in any five years before."

Here is another one signed by the whole five members of the board of public works of Auburn, which goes to show that they are much pleased with their road roller. This is their statement:—"The 10 ton steam roller our city purchased (in 1904) has given entire satisfaction in every way. The first test of its power was to run it up a 600 foot hill having a 15 per cent. grade with three men in it. It did it with the apparent ease that it would go on level ground. We have used it for both Macadam and gravel roads. We believe that every town should have one to use on its gravel or earth roads if for nothing else. The only mistake our city has made is that it should have purchased a steam roller years ago."

This statement seems to explode the theory that you can't use a steam roller on anything but level roads, or Macadam roads.

From Caribou they say:—"We have used the steam roller the town purchased the past season, both for rolling roads and as a stationary engine for power to run as rock crusher, and in every way it has proved perfectly satisfactory."

It seems to us that what is good for these other Maine towns, after due trial, ought to be good for us. From what we can learn all towns that are progressive and seek to get the best roads for the least money are using a steam roller in the building of their roads. We have tried the old-fashioned method of road building to no great success as the Waterford stage road, Norway Lake road and Main street in Norway village are examples. We don't say this to criticise the road commissioners as they probably do as well as they can with the implements they have to work with.

The trouble is with the town of Norway (the voters). They don't provide the proper and necessary apparatus for road building, and then spend their time cursing the shape our roads and streets are in.

The old-fashioned road does very well where the traffic is light. But on our main travelled roads, where the daily parade of 5 to 10 ton teams from Waterford and Stoneham, drawn by from 2 to 8 horses each, passes, the ruts are deep in dry weather and the mud deep in wet weather, and when this mud freezes the surface is slightly rough in places. If we expect to retain the traffic into Norway from the towns west of us we must provide better roads.

The late lamented proposition for a railroad into these towns was met by the town to the tune of $10,000, and the people along the route gave nearly as much more. The argument at that time was that we might as well spend our money for a railroad to relieve the roads over which the traffic comes and save rebuilding them. That the farmer could get his products to market at a less expense than is now done by team. Now the railroad is no longer thought possible. But we have the western traffic to take care of; and we have the farmers' products to get to market. So let's spend a part or even the whole of the amount the town was willing to put into a railroad proposition and build a road that our farmers and the heavy truckmen from the towns to our west can get in here on with larger loads and at a cheaper cost.

In this way we can handle a larger amount of traffic and do it with less horses than are now required thus saving the voters of this town so much that the extra tax, if there is any more required than we now spend, will not be noticed. Anyway, our streets would not be the butt of ridicule that they have been and are now.

BUCKFIELD.

Frank A. Whittemore and family have gone to New York city, their former home, to spend the winter. Their many friends wish them God speed and will be glad to see them back again when the spring comes. Rumor has it that he is negotiating the sale of his farm and has already refused a large price for it from New York parties, and as his farm is one of the most valuable in this section of the country, noted for its numerous mineral and feldspar ledges, he is in no hurry disposing of it. CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

The Paragraph Pulpit.

BY EDWIN A. RUMBALL.

Our echoes roll from soul to soul
And grow forever and forever."

These words from Tennyson's "Princess" are often forgotten by those who vainly imagine that they can be neutral to the great things of life. You cannot be neutral in the presence of another. Neutrality is a humbug, it is only supposed to exist.

Sometimes when a man dies his friends begin to praise him to me by saying: "He never drank, he never swore, he has never been known to do anyone any harm." But you cannot judge of a man's character by the things he never did. We must know what he did do.

These harmless individuals are very poor specimens of humanity at the best. I never knew a man in this every-day world who in the living of a true life did not harm some one. If you are going to do anything worth doing, you are bound to find someone who will take it as harm. Jesus, Paul, Socrates, or of a later day, Theodore Parker, Emerson and Lincoln harmed people. Even those who try to be neutral harm themselves. In everything in life we toss up the coin and take sides and if we are loyal to our side we shall shall always find plenty to harm on the other side. We have to choose and fight or stand by and be fought.

NORTH LOVELL.

There will be a ball at Grange hall New Year's night.

Perley McKeen went to West Lovell, Tuesday.

Ephriam Durgin of Sweden has been calling on relatives and old neighbors.

Ada Andrews has been sick with the prevailing cold but is better and hopes to go to school soon.

George Brown and family of Bartlettboro, have moved here and Mr. Brown will work for Nello Andrews this winter.

J. Q. Mason killed two nice hogs recently, one weighed 400 pounds and the other 465 pounds. Mr. Mason is famed for having nice large hogs.

The Deer hunters have all gone home and the deer are free once more. There has not been as many as usual taken this year in this locality, but a goodly number has been secured.

The New-York Tribune.

The newspaper in the home is a necessity. Get one that can be safely read by the entire family. The Tribune is a paper that prints all the news of the world in such a manner as to be readable without offending the laws of good taste. It is a human paper—one edited by men and women; and while, at times, it may occasionally make mistakes, its readers believe and trust in it. The Daily Tribune is more than a continuous history; it is and has been for over sixty years the great exponent of progressive national thought and fills a larger place in American history than any other newspaper. It contains special articles on nearly every subject which interests intelligent and clean-minded people, to say nothing of the instructive editorial articles and reviews of Books, Music, Art and Drama. In fact, there is nothing ever printed in The Tribune that will not instruct and educate, just as it is a fact that there is nothing ever printed that will offend decency.

With The Sunday Tribune you get a handsome illustrated supplement of timely topics and a superb twenty-page magazine with colored cover, which contains most interesting fiction and short stories by well known authors. This, with other sections, goes to make up one of the most complete and interesting Sunday newspapers published.

The Daily and Sunday Tribune is the ideal family newspaper. If you are not familiar with it you owe it to yourself and family to at least try a month's subscription to verify the above statement. A dollar bill sent to the Circulation Department of The Tribune, New York, will bring The Daily and Sunday Tribune into your family for one month. Or send $10 for one year.

EAST OTISFIELD.

Golden Rule Sale.

The Golden Rule branch of I. S. S. held a sale at the Grange hall on Otisfield Gore Wednesday afternoon and evening, Dec. 18 Owing to bad weather and traveling only a few were out but a good sum of money was realized from the sale. Mrs. Addie Wills presided over a very tastily decorated booth with an elaborate sign of "Fish Pond." It proved to be a very attractive place as it was soon reported all sold out. Mrs. Delia Stone had charge of a beautiful as well as sweet table. It looked charming in its dress of purple and white with silver stars glistening on its cover. This was the favorite resort for children, also young men, who wished to give their best girl a treat. Corn balls, corn cakes and several kinds of home-made candies adorned this table.

The two large tables on the opposite side of the hall was loaded with all styles of aprons and many fancy articles, which were very handsome. One table was dressed in blue and white, the other pink and green. On these tables one could find all sorts of useful articles, which sold well. These tables were presided over by Mrs. Sadie Smith and Mrs Lizzie Cleveland, who were ready at all times to wait on customers in their pleasing manner.

In the evening a short program was given. The orchestra gave fine music, which was heartily enjoyed. Next was a recitation by Clarence Smith, music by Florence Thompson, recitation by Willard Cleaveland, music by orchestra, recitation by Lawrence Rowe, encore, music by orchestra and a fine reading by Mrs Etta Chute with encore. Ice cream was then on sale and an old-fashioned baked bean supper was enjoyed in the dining-room below.

The orchestra: William Spurr, violinist; Granville Burns, cornetist; and Mrs. Lydia Spurr, pianist; furnished music for the sociable. The sale was a success and the society are thankful to all who contributed.

The branch having procured their badges were privileged to wear them for the first time at this sale. They are the International color, yellow ribbon with silver lettering, Golden Rule, I. S. S. They are now in the possession of the president, Mrs. E. R. Stone, East Otisfield, and all members can obtain one free by calling upon her.

Saturday evening, Dec. 14, was election of officers in Frederick Robie Grange. In the absence of the master and overseer, Past Master W. P. Linnell was appointed master for the evening. After the usual business the following officers were elected:

PREVENTS PNEUMONIA.

In comparing statistics of the fatalities from pneumonia in different states, it is interesting to notice how favorably Maine compares with other states. This is undoubtedly due to the general use of a simple home-made remedy composed of four tablespoonsful of molasses or honey and one each of olive oil and Anodyne. Mix well together and take in teaspoonful doses. The Anodyne alone is also applied externally on the throat and chest. If taken in time, this will absolutely prevent pneumonia.

Neuralgic Anodyne is also invaluable in all aches and pains, such as neuralgia, headaches, rheumatism, toothache, bruises, sprains, cuts, chilblains, croup, sore throat, etc. A large-sized bottle costs but 25 cts., and is sold under a guarantee of satisfaction or money refunded. Our hearts were saddened Friday to hear of the sudden death of our genial friend, Stephen H. Foster, at the home of his brother, David Foster. Prayers were held there Sunday, at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Geo. Hannaford, after which funeral services were held at the East Bethel church. Mr. Foster had been night watchman in the spool mill for the past three years until recently, when obliged to give it up on acount of poor health. He was a man respected by all and had many friends as was shown by the beautiful floral tributes.

A Christmas tree with appropriate exercises was held at the church, Tuesday evening, for the little ones. Old Santa was real generous this year in distributing his gifts and gladdened the hearts of all.

OXFORD.

A Loss to the Town.

Mrs. Isabelle M. Keith, who for nearly fifteen years has been a resident of Oxford, left on Monday for Littleton, N. H. She will make her home with her sister, Mrs. Maggie Taylor. Mrs. Keith came from Boston to Oxford in 1893. She bought the Prescott Pike place on Allen Hill consisting of house, outbuildings and ninety acres of land. House was enlarged and opened for boarders. In November of following year the house was burned.

Mrs. Keith remained away in Boston and Roxbury two years but in 1896 came back and built the present Oxford Spring House. Mrs. Keith opened and run the Spring House two seasons, but in 1898 sold to Miss Caroline Fisher. She came to hotel in Oxford for a few months, then went to Boston for nearly a year, finally returning to Oxford and lived in Mrs. Ellen Farris' house on High street. In 1901 she built the residence on High street now occupied by Dr. Farris.

In 1904 she sold her property on High street to Dr. Harry Farris and bought the Lake View Hotel, and with a lavish expenditure of money she made this one of the most pleasant, homelike hotels in Maine. She repaired each room thoroughly, built a new dining room, put a wide piazza around the street side and end, put in a steam heating apparatus at a cost of $900 and furnished it throughout in an up-to-date manner.

The hotel was run successfully until Mrs. Keith was taken sick a year ago. Since that time her health has been gradually failing, and realizing she must get out of business and be where it was more quiet, she sold outright to James Pledge, the present occupant.

It is safe to say that no one person will be more missed in this village than Mrs. Keith. She was bubbling over with sympathy, good nature and charitable intentions, and it was mainly through her energy and persistence that the electric light system was installed in this village.

If a family was sick, needy or destitute, Mrs. Keith was always around with the actual necessities as well as sympathy. Her many friends regret exceedingly to have her leave, yet one and all sincerely trust that in her new home she may regain at least a part of her former good health and be able to visit them once again in Oxford.

George Hazen has sold the A. L. Hersey homestead to Webster and George Turner. The property consists of a two-story brick house, ell and stable, five acres of land well stocked with fruit trees situated on Allen Hill, commanding a view of the village and lake. It is a beautiful piece of property and valued by the late Dr. Hersey at $10,000. The Turners are to take possession at once and will be welcomed in our community.

Two of our young ladies were in Lewiston, Wednesday of last week, buying Christmas presents. Among other things they bought a choice box of candy for one of their friends. When walking down the street to take the train this box of candy got away from them and its contents were spilled upon the ground. The girls did not attempt to gather their candy but a brakeman on the train, who witnessed the accident, picked up most of the spilled sweets and presented them to the girls on their arrival at station. He was rewarded with a candy kiss.
